Mike Davanzo serves as Enbridge's Maritime Operations Specialist, based in St. Ignace, Michigan. He oversees the Enbridge Maritime Operations Center and leads the Maritime Pipeline Protection Program—an initiative focused on preventing anchor strikes and safeguarding the Line 5 dual pipelines crossing the Straits of Mackinac.

With nearly five decades of maritime experience, Mike joined Enbridge following a distinguished 44-year career in the United States Coast Guard.

He and his wife, Allyson, reside in Mackinaw City, Michigan. They are proud parents of two children, Jessica and Matthew, and grandparents to their granddaughter, Riata.
